Philippians, the apostle Paul's letter to the church in the northern Greek city of Philippi. This inductive Bible study will incorporate an examination of the founding of the Christian church in Philippi and a historical and cultural look at the influences of the Greek culture upon these first century followers of Christ. The lessons will also examine the life and ministry of the apostle Paul, as well as the influences of the Jewish culture upon the early Christian church.

Every lesson will also examine the biblical call to Christian fellowship. Each week will take a look at one of the "one another" commands written to the Christian church. What does it mean to love one another and how do we live at peace with one another? These and many more commands will be examined, as the group will be challenged to walk in obedience to the Lord, while holding one another to accountability.

This inductive study will use the Bible as the primary source of information. The inductive method includes four steps. First you will be asked questions to help you carefully observe the text as you "read with a purpose." The next step involves careful and accurate interpretation of the Scriptures being studied, that you might determine eternal principles from the text, and then apply these Scriptures to the circumstances of your life.
