This inductive study of Old Testament worship for those who follow Christ will challenge you to examine your own concept of worship. How does Old Testament teaching about worshiping God relate to New Testament teaching? Each of the lessons in this study examines actions that demonstrate the attributes of the Triune God. The study looks at examples of how individuals as well as the nation of Israel worshiped God, and then the instructions in the New Testament concerning worship for believers.

Included in this in-depth study are biblical passages from Genesis to Revelation with extensive references to teaching in the Psalms concerning worship and the

This inductive study will use the Bible as the primary source of information. The inductive method includes four steps. First you will be asked questions to help you carefully observe the text as you “read with a purpose.” The next step involves careful and accurate interpretation of the Scriptures being studied, that you might determine eternal principles from the text, and then apply these Scriptures to the circumstances of your life.
